TIMELINE HISTORY OF HENRY C. STEPHENS LTD
THE STEPHENS' INK COMPANY

1796 (March) Birth of Henry Stephens in Holborn, London, the second son of Joseph Stephens (1771–1820) and his wife Catherine (1763–1843), née Farey

1801 The Stephens family moves to the Bull Inn, Redbourn, Hertfordshire, where Joseph Stephens becomes landlord

1811 Young Henry Stephens is apprenticed to a local doctor in Markyate, Hertfordshire

1815 Henry Stephens attends Guy's and St Thomas' Medical School; he shares rooms at 28 St Thomas Street, London with John Keats and George Wilson Mackereth

1817–1828 Dr Stephens runs a medical and veterinary practice in Redbourn

1820 (29 January) Death of King George III

1829 The doctor relocates his medical practice to London and conducts experiments on inks and wood stains in a laboratory close to his home at 54 Stamford Street. In the years that follow he works to perfect and patent an indelible writing fluid that writes blue and dries black

1830 (26 June) Death of King George IV. Competitors P & J Arnold, founded in 1724, introduce "Arnold's blue-black Chemical Writing Fluid" despite objections by Dr Stephens

1831 Dr Stephens publishes an acclaimed treatise on the treatment of hernia

1832 Stephens' Ink Company is registered at 54 Lower Stamford Street, Southwark

1837 (28 March) First Stephens patents granted for inks, pens and inkstands

1837 (20 June) Death of King William IV

1838 Advertisement in Robson's London Directory informs "the writing public" of "Stephens's Patent Writing Fluids" in Carbonaceous Black, Dark Blue, Light Blue and Brilliant Red with the warning that "The Penalties for infringing a Patent lie against the Vendor as well as the Maker". The ink is sold in bottles at 6d., 1s., and 3s. each, by Stationers and Booksellers

1838 (28 June) Coronation of Queen Victoria

1840 Introduction of the Penny Post stimulates demand for writing materials

1840 (May) Marriage of Dr Henry Stephens to Anne O'Reilly at St Andrew's Church, Holborn

1841 (2 February) Birth of Henry Charles Stephens at 71 York Road, Lambeth, south London

1846 Dr Henry Stephens moves with his family to Grove House, Ballards Lane, Finchley, north London; ink production remains at premises in Stamford Street although research and experiments on ink and wood stains are continued in outbuildings at Grove House

1849 Dr Stephens publishes a treatise on the analysis and treatment of cholera

1851 The company participates in the Great Exhibition in Hyde Park, London, displaying existing products and innovations such as a "Fountain Ink-Holder"; address shown as 54 Lower Stamford Street, Blackfriars Road, London

1852 The company advertises ink and writing fluids, wood stains, patent propelling pencils, parallel rulers, patent stamp and label dampers and claims to be "Patronized by His Royal Highness Prince Albert and the Royal Family" and other European royals

1856 The company takes offices at 18 St Martin's-le-Grand, London, but is soon ousted by redevelopment for a new GPO headquarters building

1860 The company finds a new home at 171 Aldersgate Street; manufacturing continues in Southwark at Princes Street premises (now Coin Street). 19-year-old Henry Charles Stephens joins the company full-time, after study at the School of Mines

1861 An American advertisement for Stephens' wood stains quotes the company's Agent as C. J. Reilly with an office at 275 Pearl Street, New York City

1863 (28 April) Marriage of Henry Charles Stephens to Margaret Agnes Mackereth, daughter of George Wilson Mackereth (see 1815 above)

1864 (15 September) Sudden death of Dr Henry Stephens at Farringdon Station, London; his son Henry C. Stephens (aged 23) takes over management of the company which is a partnership; his mother and his mother's sister Ellen are the legal partners

1865 Birth of Henry C. Stephens' son, Henry O'Reilly Stephens

1866 Ink and wood stain experiments continue inouthouses at Grove Lodge in Finchley

1867 Henry C. Stephens, "Chemist", awarded Silver Medal for Writing Inks at the Exposition Universelle at the Champ de Mars in Paris, France

1868 Henry Charles Stephens becomes a legal partner in the Stephens' Ink company

1869 Birth of Henry C. Stephens' second son Michael Edmund Stephens
1869–1885 Stephens' products win 8 Gold Medals and 11 Silver Medals at international exhibitions in Le Havre, Lyons, Vienna, Philadelphia, Paris, Boston (USA), Sydney, Melbourne, Christchurch (NZ), Amsterdam, Calcutta and Antwerp; company's trademark 'inkspot' is recognised worldwide.

1870 The company offices at 171 are renumbered to 191 Aldersgate Street.

1872 Manufacturing moves from Southwark to 275½ Holloway Road, north London, adjacent to Holloway Road tube station; offices later relocate (1898) to 57 Aldersgate Street.

1874 Stephens' family purchases for £1950 and moves to Avenue House, East End Road, Finchley.

1884 Henry C. Stephens buys Cholderton Lodge and 823 acres of farmland to establish his estate at Cholderton, on the Hampshire–Wiltshire border.

1885 Henry C. Stephens' younger son Michael, aged 16, joins the company.

1887 Henry C. Stephens, by now known affectionately as 'Inky', is elected Conservative MP for Hornsey and Finchley with a majority of 1,988 votes; he is known to be an abstainer and supporter of the temperance movement.

1888 Henry Charles Stephens is admitted to the Freedom and Livery of the Worshipful Company of Spectacle Makers.

1889 Further purchase of 1,015 acres of farmland at Cholderton; Henry C. Stephens becomes Lord of the Manor. His holdings would later exceed 5,000 acres.

1889 The company buys land in Gillespie Road, Highbury, north London from the Great Northern Railway Co for future manufacturing premises; railway sidings from the adjacent main line are later added for freight purposes.

1892 Manufacturing moves to the new purpose-built factory at Gillespie Road, Highbury, N5, close to Arsenal football ground and adjacent to Arsenal Underground station. The factory is designed by Henry Stephens' son Michael and has an illuminated chimney bearing the name STEPHENS.

1892 Henry C. Stephens is re-elected to Parliament for a second term.

1894 Michael Stephens, aged 25, becomes a partner in his father's company.

1896 The RMS Drummond Castle disaster. Henry Stephens' brother Harold is drowned, as are his wife and daughter, when returning from Cape Town. Their ship founders off Ushant, Brittany with heavy loss of life. Harold Stephens was a solicitor in Durban and had established an export office for Stephens' products in that city.

1898 The company offices are established at 57 Aldersgate Street.

1900 Henry C. Stephens resigns as MP on a point of principle and opposition to the Boer War.

1901 (22 January) Death of Queen Victoria.

1904 Henry C. Stephens, aged 63, suffers a bout of ill-health. He begins to spend more and more time at his country estate in Cholderton.

1906 Henry Stephens' nephew Gerald, son of brother Harold who drowned in 1896, joins the family company.

1908 Following his marriage to Louise Oudin, Michael Stephens buys woodland near Peaslake in Surrey to create an estate with a new country house and gardens known as Coverwood; he retains a London house at 74 Portland Place.

1910 (6 May) Death of King Edward VII.

1910 Stephens' products are chosen to accompany Captain Robert Scott on the ill-fated Terra Nova Expedition to reach the South Pole.

1911 Stephens' products are chosen for the Australasian Antarctic Expedition led by Australian Sir Douglas Mawson.

1915 During WWI Avenue House is requisitioned as a hospital for injured servicemen, remaining after 1918 under the control of the Air Ministry for another seven years, from 1919 becoming the Central Hospital of the Royal Air Force.

1918 (8 July) Death of Henry Charles Stephens, aged 77; his final act of philanthropy is to leave his Avenue House estate "for the enjoyment of the public always". The house is still (until 1925) a military hospital and is later used by many organisations, including a school, a public library and as council offices and ARP fire-watching headquarters during WWII.

1919 (28 June) The Treaty of Versailles, bringing a formal end to World War I, is signed using Stephens' indelible blue-black ink.
1925 (May) Henry C. Stephens Ltd is incorporated as a public company trading as Stephens' Inks; Gerald Stephens is appointed Managing Director and share capital is £850,000. Gross profit for the year amounts to £97,326 (£5 million in today's money)

1926 Michael Stephens resigns as a Director, citing wish for "freedom from business responsibilities"

1928 (23 August) Death of Major Gerald Stephens, on a polo field. He is succeeded as MD by his brother Harold Edric Stephens, aged 42, also a nephew of Henry C. Stephens

1929 Compagnie des Encres Stephens is founded in Paris as a French ink manufacturing company; offices and factory are at 37 rue Deguingand, Levallois-Perret (Seine), in the French capital's northern suburbs

1929 An offer is made by Stephens' Inks to acquire the rival London ink-manufacturing firm of long-established competitor P & J Arnold Ltd., also based in Aldersgate Street

1930 Average annual gross profit of the company for the last five years is £97,000.

1932 Henry C. Stephens Ltd acquires Meeks Inks of New Zealand and takes over their factory in Dunedin, New Zealand

1935 The company introduces a range of fountain pens with 14ct gold nibs; first model is designated Stephens 106, the code for a selling price of ten shillings and sixpence. Average annual gross profit of the company for the last five years is £85,050

1936 (20 January) Death of King George V; (11 December) Abdication of King Edward VIII. Button-filler pens 56 and 76 introduced; selling price 5/6 and 7/6, respectively

1936 Death of Michael Stephens aged 77 at the Palacio Hotel, Estoril, Portugal

1937 "Deluxe model" fountain pen number 21 introduced; selling price one guinea (21 shillings)

1938 Practical and innovatively-shaped Fillpen ink bottle introduced

1939 The company introduces picture-mounting adhesive Grip-fix, sold in airtight aluminium containers from threepence to two shillings and sixpence. In Paris, Marcel Bich, the future inventor of the disposable bic ballpoint pen, razor and cigarette lighter, is appointed Director of Marketing at Encres Stephens in Paris

1940 Henry C. Stephens Ltd introduces patented 'Leverfil' fountain pens containing an internal sac. Despite the outbreak of WWII, the company's average annual gross profit for the last five years is £76,328 (£3.6 million in today's money)

1941 The company's Head Office at 57 Aldersgate Street is destroyed by enemy bombing; staff relocate offices to Gillespie Road factory premises, telephone: CANonbury 4455, cable address: INK, LONDON. The premises of P & J Arnold Ltd are also destroyed

1942 Harold Edric Stephens, nephew of Henry "Inky" Stephens, is appointed a Director of P & J Arnold Ltd as this blitzed company is merged with Henry C. Stephens Ltd. From now on Arnold's sells both companies' products direct to customers while Stephens handles exports and supplies a countrywide network of retailers. Arnold's factory is in Benwell Road, N7, close to the Stephens factory and offices in Gillespie Road, N5

1945 End of WWII. Despite all the difficulties, and the destruction of the company's offices by enemy action in 1941, Henry C. Stephens Ltd has traded very successfully during the six war years, with gross profits exceeding £74,000 each year (£3 million in today's money)

1946 New deluxe model fountain pen introduced, named "Royale". Stephens' pens are made by a number of manufacturers, but mainly by the Lang Pen Company of Liverpool

1947 The company receives £7,466 from the War Damage Commission as compensation for the damage caused by enemy action. The Annual Report states that factories are operating successfully in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and France, and that a company has has been formed in Chile. In France, the company advertises Stephens' fountain pens made by a company in Grenoble

1948 Problems arise due to increased competition, rise in cost of raw materials, the loss of the Argentine export market due to exchange controls, and political problems in India causing losses and delays in plans to open a factory in Calcutta.

1949 A Stephens' outdoor advertising thermometer features in the opening and closing sequences of Ealing Studios' famous film comedy Passport to Pimlico

1950 (September) Death of Harold Edric Stephens. The French subsidiary company makes a loss and the Australian subsidiary company is sold; net profit has dropped to £15,056 from £22,326 the previous year
1951  Stephens' product range now has 150 different kinds of ink but commercial use is declining due mechanisation, although carbon paper and typewriter ribbons are selling well

1952  (6 February) Death of King George VI. The company introduces 'micro-filtered' ink in four washable 'radiant colours': blue-black, radiant blue, scarlet and green, all priced at seven pence per bottle; net trading profit has dropped to £11,196 ( £290,000 in today's money)

1953  (2 June) Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. Directors of Henry C. Stephens Ltd are listed as J H F Guy (Chairman), L Bagrit (Vice Chairman), F H R Turney (Managing), E W Dancaster (Deputy Managing), M G Talbot Rice and E W Brown. The company is barely profitable and the French subsidiary is in liquidation after heavy losses

1954  After reorganisation, directors are now Leon Bagrit (Chairman), E W Brown (Managing) and M G Talbot-Rice; net trading profit is £18,179

1955  E W Brown retires and a new Managing Director K B Robinson is appointed; a new 'inkblot' logo is introduced and net profit for the year is £11,713

1956  £105,000 has been spent on capital re-equipment over the last three years and a further £7,000 invested in the South African subsidiary; net profit rises to £19,448

1957  The Annual Report says that the company has recovered from the situation four years ago when 'Dividends had not been paid for years, the factories were ill-equipped, the products poorly presented and the pre-eminence of the company in its section of the stationery field largely lost'; net profit improves to £21,099

1958  Goodman & Vandervieren Ltd, manufacturers of Vanguard stapling machines and staples, is taken over; net profit for the year declines to £18,312

1959  Chairman Leon Bagrit retires and Managing Director K B Robinson becomes Chairman; net profit improves to £41,602 ( £820,000 in today's money)

1960  A new subsidiary company, H C S Plastics, is formed, to manufacture “flat plastic articles” (wallets, binders, document cases); net profit £47,099

1961  (March) American company LePage's Ltd, manufacturers of gum mucilage and adhesives, is acquired for cash and the Gillespie Road factory is modernised. The Company now has 400 employees and is manufacturing writing, drawing and marking inks of all descriptions, industrial inks, fountain pen ink, stamp pads and endorsing inks, adhesives and gum mucilage, adhesive tapes, stapling machines, typewriter ribbons, chalks, crayons and sealing wax; the factory has its own rail sidings. The Annual Report shows ten subsidiary companies, including those in New Zealand, India, South Africa and Chile, and a group net profit for the year of £42,871 ( £810,000 in today's money)

1962  College Crayon Co Ltd, supplier of chalk and crayons, is taken over. Subsidiaries in New Zealand and South Africa are unprofitable. The company exhibits for the first time at the Hanover Trade Fair and the Brussels International Fair. The sales force is strengthened by the addition of fifteen merchandisers with mini-vans

1963  Group Sales Manager N R Dix is appointed to the Board on 1 January. Trading conditions are getting difficult – the 1963 Annual Report shows group net profit at £16,365 compared with £42,871 in 1961 and £31,235 in 1962

1964  (17 January) An offer is made by the Equity Corporation of Delaware, USA, for the whole of the company's Ordinary Shares at ten shillings per share. The offer is accepted by 67 percent of shareholders four weeks later. The directors are shown as D M Milton (USA), Sir Theodore Constantine, K B Robinson (resigned 1 October), N R Dix and D H Moseley. In October the Waterman Pen Co Limited is taken over. Net profit declines to £11,154

1965  Manufacturing moves a short distance from Gillespie Road to former Express Dairy cake factory at 100–112 Drayton Park, London N5. Directors are Sir Theodore Constantine, N R Dix, M F Meissner (USA) and E J Bouvard (USA). Losses for the year amount to £199,842

1966  The acquisition of Waterman Pens has not proved profitable. In April seven wholly-owned Stephens' subsidiaries are placed in voluntary liquidation: Goodman & Vandervieren, G H J Hughes, Jayjex, Coronet Manufacturing, College Crayon Company, Grip-Fix and LePage's. Steps are also taken to liquidate the subsidiaries in Chile and India. Losses for the year are slightly lower at £138,689 ( £2.18 million in today's money)

1967  (28 June) Henry C. Stephens Ltd and associated and subsidiary companies including P & J Arnold and Waterman Pens are acquired by the Royal Sovereign Pencil Company Ltd (founded in 1920). Dock strikes in London and Liverpool in September disrupt export orders
1968  After further takeovers, the Royal Sovereign Group now comprises 33 companies plus eight overseas subsidiaries.

1969  Total turnover of the Royal Sovereign Group is £4,150,658 of which 12 percent (£507,370) is comprised of exports to 104 countries worldwide.

1970  Stephens' Drayton Park factory is wound down; Royal Sovereign continues to manufacture Stephens' Blue-Black Record Ink (Registrar's Ink) and other Stephens' products at its factory on an industrial estate in White Hart Lane, Tottenham, London N22.

1972  The old Gillespie Road factory is demolished and the site given over to local-authority housing and a nature park. Royal Sovereign increases its shareholding in Stephens Inks (N.Z.) Ltd to 97 percent.

1973  Royal Sovereign acquires the minority 30 percent shareholding in Henry C. Stephens Pty. Limited (South Africa) making that subsidiary wholly owned.

1974  Royal Sovereign installs its first computer, a Singer 10; profits are up by 29 percent.

1975  Due to Indian government restrictions on non-trading companies, Stephens Inks Ltd in India is placed in voluntary liquidation. UK economic and political problems in 1974 cause profits to fall by thirty percent to £477,358 (£3.39 million in today's money).

1978  The Dickinson Robinson Group (DRG) – a conglomerate formed by the 1966 merger of John Dickinson Ltd (paper manufacturers) and E S & A Robinson Ltd of Bristol (packaging manufacturers) – takes over Royal Sovereign Group Ltd.

1985  Stephens' Drayton Park factory is finally closed; production ceases of Stephens Registrar's Ink.

1986  The redundant Drayton Park factory chimney is demolished; the site is sold and later redeveloped as apartments.

1989  (15 May) Destruction of east wing of Avenue House, Finchley, by fire; "Inky" Stephens' old first-floor laboratory is gutted – a few artefacts and company record books are saved. The Finchley Society resolves to preserve the Stephens archive and items that remain. Asset-stripper Roland Franklin (Pembridge Investments) acquires DRG (including Royal Sovereign) with a leveraged buyout worth £900 million.

1990  The Royal Sovereign Group including remaining Stephens' products is sold to the Mitsubishi Pencil Company of Japan (founded 1887) to form the basis of their new UK distribution network. Other parts of the DRG group are also sold off, some to Bowater's (now Rexam), some to Spicer's; DRG ceases to exist.

1991  The New Zealand subsidiary, John Dickinson & Co (New Zealand) Ltd, is re-registered as Nontradorm (110) Ltd, a non-trading dormant company.

1993  Opening of The Stephens Collection in Avenue House in Finchley, featuring the history of writing materials and of the Stephens family and the Stephens' Ink company.

2001  Avenue House Estate Management, a charitable Trust, is created to take over management of Avenue House and grounds from the London Borough of Barnet which retains the freehold.

2002  West Design Products Limited of Folkestone, Kent acquires the Royal Sovereign Group including remaining Stephens' trademarks from the Mitsubishi Pencil Company.

2006  A number of Stephens' products are relaunched by West Design Products Ltd who continue to produce a range of Stephens branded stationery items including Stephens' Black Drawing (Indian) Ink.

2013  Old Stephens' ink bottles, thermometers and other artefacts continue to be advertised for sale in antique shops and on internet auction sites, offered by sellers all over the world including UK, USA, Canada, Germany, South America, India, Australia and New Zealand; rare or unusual items are acquired where possible by The Stephens Collection.

2014  It is announced that Avenue House Estate is to be renamed Stephens House and Gardens with rebranding, a new website and plans for continuing development.

Timeline compiled by Stewart J Wild, Trustee of The Stephens Collection

January 2014